

TUESDAY APRIL 10, 1744

Yesterday arriv'd two Mails from Flanders.

Genoa, March 23.

HE Republick is far from being recovered from the Astonishment into which she was thrown by the Treaty of Worms, tho' several Reports have been spread, as if the Articles fatal to her Repose had been cancelled, or, at least, very much softened, by a subsequent Convention. The Dread, however, she is under, that this may prove a mere Invention, contrived to lull her asleep, and thereby afford her Enemies an Opportunity of carrying their Designs into Execution, disturbs her so much, that she is daily considering such Measures as she thinks most conducive to her Safety. In the mean time, it is not easy to guess what will contribute thereto. If the Queen of Hungary, and her Allies, prevail, most evident it is, that Final will be torn from her. On the other hand, if the House of Bourbon should carry its Point in Italy, there is just Reason to fear that all the Dominions of this Republick may fall a Sacrifice to the Ambition of that potent Family. In such Circumstances, all that the Senate can do, is to put the State in the best Posture of Defence possible; in order to which, several of the greatest Families, out of their Zeal for the publick Good, have resolved to contribute largely, and even to put themselves in Arms, for the Service of the State; and we hope the Disputes in Italy will last long enough, before either Party prevails, to afford us Time to raise an Army of 15,000 Men, which we are to set on Foot as soon as may be.

Belgium, March 18. In the Relation published by Direction of Prince Lobkowitz, of his Pursuit of the Spaniards, there are many Things said to the Honour of the Count de Gages, who is alleged to have made the best Retreat that was possible. General in his Circumstances. His Army, at the Time he abandoned his Retrenchments, did not consist of above 11,000 effective Men. The Austrians were about 18,000, and were much superior to him in the Number of their Cavalry. The first Step taken by General Brown, obliged the Spaniards to quit the Route they intended, and to march all the Way close along the Sea-Shore; which exposed them to the Fire of the English Men of War, who kept them Company from Ancona to the very Confines of the Kingdom of Naples. Yet, in spite of all these Difficulties, it is believed, that Count de Gages has actually carried off better than 9000 Men; so that if he is joined by 16,000 Neapolitan Troops, he will be able to make a very considerable Stand; and it will be no very easy Matter to force a Passage into his Sicilian Majesty's Dominions.

Vienna, April 1. All the Generals are now set out for Bavaria, so that we expect very soon to hear that the Operations of the Campaign are begun. According to our last Letters from Italy, Prince Lobkowitz is actually on the Frontiers of the Kingdom of Naples, and has sent an Officer to acquaint his Sicilian Majesty, that he has precise Orders from the Queen, his Mistress, to pursue the Enemies of the House of Austria into the very Heart of his Country, in case he shall declare himself in favour of the Spaniards; but that, on the other Hand, his Orders are to observe punctually the Neutrality that subsists at present, in case his Majesty shall do the same; so that we shall very soon see whether the Spaniards will be able to maintain themselves in that Kingdom, or be obliged, after all, to abandon Italy entirely. According to private Letters from Bavaria, several Regiments of Foot have received Orders to march immediately into the Netherlands, where they are to be joined by a considerable Body of Irregular Troops, so that the Army, on that Side, will be much stronger than it was expected.

Extract from a Private Letter.

Frankfort, April 8. The Ambassadors and Ministers of all the Ecclesiastical Princes, as well as those of Saxony and Hanover, have received positive Instructions, to oppose to the utmost, in their respective Colleges, the Project of assembling an Army of Neutrality. In a Letter written by a very great Prince, to his Electoral Highness of Mentz, he says, It ought, in the first Place, to be considered, if this Army be an Army of the Empire; and, if so, against whom it is raised? On the other Hand, if it is to be an Army of Confederation, depending solely on the Will of a few Princes; with what Views, and to what Ends it will answer, towards re-establishing the Publick Tranquillity?

In the first Case, continues he, we conceive, it cannot be formed without the Consent of the Empire; and then it ought to be examined, if the Project be or be not advantageous or necessary? If this be the only Method left, or if this Method, at last, will answer? To whom shall the Command be confided, where shall the Funds necessary for its Subsistence be found, or where shall it be assembled? Is it to act or not to act? If it is to act, will it be offensively or defensively? And against whom either way? If it is possible to flatter ourselves with the Hopes of this Way restoring Peace to our Country? Is this the sole, the only, and the true Reason and End proposed, or is the main End of this Pretence the concealing the true one? If so, what is that End?

In the second Case, and supposing this is the Nature of an Army of Confederation, we know, that conformable to the Treaty of Westphalia, there is more to be hoped in favour of the publick Tranquillity from the Constitutions of the Empire, and a strict Adherence to them, than from any Confederacy whatever amongst particular States: And that these Sort of Confederacies, which are but too well known from the Mischiefs they produce from Time to Time in Poland, are every where detested, as well as forbid in the severest Terms, by the Laws of the Empire. It is necessary also to know who are to be the confederating or contracting Powers, and with what neutral Potentates they are to join? What shall be the Object, what are to be the Conditions of this Confederacy? If it is to be offensive or defensive? In fine, what Precautions are to be taken, in order to prevent its becoming, as too often happens in such Cases, a Means of running into actual Hostilities? Or that it may not be abused so, as to violate that small Remainder of Peace which still subsists in the Empire, by involving all the Electors, Princes, and States, in the Germanick Body, in the Participation of the Miseries suffered by their Country? It is absolutely necessary, that the Inventors and Supporters of this Project, should give us a clear, full, and satisfactory Account, as to all and each of these Points of Enquiry, if they would not have us consider this their Army of the Empire, or Confederacy, as an Enterprize directly contrary to, and inconsistent with, the Liberties of their Country; or as an hostile Invasion; or, at least, as a Project evidently tending to produce either One or the Other.

The late vigorous Attempts of the Emisaries of Rome, to diffuse their poisonous Tenets among a free and Protestant
People, and that under the happy Government of an illustrious Protestant Prince, must raise in every sober and generous Mind a just Indignation against them, and a tender Compassion to the Weak and Ignorant, who are most expos'd to their horrid Delusions. Surely, never did any Thing, that wore the sacred Name of Religion, appear in the World, so mon-strously absurd and detestable as Popery, which is the cruellest Merchandise of Men's Lives and Souls, and lies in direct Contradiction to Reason and Revelation, to Morality and Common Sense, and to all the dearest Interests of Civil Society, of Liberty, Conscience, and Eternal Salvation.

of the KING'S ROYAL LETTERS PATENT:

An ABSTRACT of which is as follows,

GEORGE R.

GEORGE the Second, by the Grace of God, of Great-Britain, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. to all whom these Presents shall come greeting. Whereas Our Trusty and Well-beloved Thomas Greenough, of St. Sepulchre's, in Our City of London, Apothecary, has represented unto Us, that at a considerable Expence, and much Study, he has at last found out and invented a MEDICINE that destroys the SCURVY in the GUMS, fastens the TEETH, preserves them white and beautiful, sweetens the BREATH, and effectually cures the TOOTH-ACH, as Multitudes of Our Subjects have happily experienced, &c. And We being willing to give Encouragement to all Arts and Inventions which may be for the publick Good, know ye therefore, that We, of Our especial Grace, certain Knowledge, and mere Motion, have given and granted, and by these Presents, for Us, Our Heirs and Successors, do give and grant unto the said Thomas Greenough, his Assigns, &c. and such Person only as they shall agree with, Our especial Licence, full Power, sole Privilege and Authority, to vend the same, &c. And we do by these Presents strictly command all our Subjects not to put in Practice the said Invention, nor in any Ways counterfeit, imitate, or resemble the same, as they will answer their Contempt of this Our Royal Command.

In Witness whereof We have caused these Our Letters to be made Patent.

Witness OUR SELF at Westminster, the 9th Day of February, in the Seventh Year of Our Reign.

Notwithstanding the Complaints of the Teeth and Gums are so general, and the Pain of the Teeth-ach so intense and intolerable, (no Medicine has yet been offer'd the Publick which carries the least Shew or Probability of curing either. For cleaning the Teeth, and making them white, the Powders have hitherto bin the fairest, and will in a great Measure answer that Purpose; but then the Remedy is worse than the Disease, for those very Powders rub away the Gums, wear off the Enamel from the Teeth, leave their bony Substance expos'd to Air, and thereby subject the Teeth to Decay: A Consequence had enough!

Nor are the Methods of curing the Teeth-ach much better calculated, there being nothing yet propos'd but Drawing, or the Use of such Medicines as tend to destroy the Nerve of the Teeth, and of course the Teeth itself.

The Reason we have hitherto had no effectual Remedy for either of those Complaints, seems to be this, That the Cause of the Disorder has not been rightly understood. 'Tis what the Faculty have seldom concern'd themselves with, and therefore it has for the most part been left to the Province of People quite unskill'd in Anatomy and Physick, from whom little Benefit can be expected.

Experience tells us, that a Defluxion of Humours is the true Cause of the Pain, and that a too great and lax Texture of the Fibres that compose the Gums (the Consequences of which are, that the Blood and Humours of the Parts become liable to a Stagnation, or weak Circulation, from whence they grow putrid, sharp, acrimonious, and corrosive) is the true Reason of the other Disorders of the Teeth, and of the Scurvy in the Gums.

To cure, therefore, the Teeth-ach, a Medicine should be applied that will both attenuate and dissolve the Humours, and prevent a further Defluxion; and to remedy the other Disorders of the Teeth and Gums, such Things should be made Use of as will strengthen and brace up the Fibres, and promote the Circulation of the Humours; and 'tis upon this Basis that the present Medicine is founded.

The above Medicine, that it may be more effectual, and be more conveniently used, is divided into two Tinctures:

The One for Preserving the TEETH,

Which in a few times using perfectly cures the Scurvy in the Gums, causes them to grow down close and regular to the Teeth, makes the foulest Teeth white and beautiful, preserves them from growing rotten, and keeps such as are decay'd from becoming worse; and in a little Time removes the Cause of an ill-scented Breath, except where the Lungs are ulcerated. Each Bottle of this Tincture is seal'd with the above Impression in Red Wax. Price One Shilling.

The other for Curing the TOOTH-ACH,

Even when most violent; Into which a larger Proportion of some of the Ingredients (with a little Variation) is put, to make it more immediately effectual. Each Bottle of this Tincture is likewise seal'd as in the Margin, with Black Wax. Price One Shilling.

A.B. By Virtue of the Patent above-mention'd, I have appointed John Newbery, my only Vender of these Tinctures, to whom all Persons are desir'd to apply for them, at his Warehouse, the Bible and Crown, near Devereux-Court, without Temple-Bar, London, and at his Shop in Reading, Berks: At which Places, Merchants, Captains of Ships, and Country-Dealers, will have good Allowance to sell again; and particular Bills in any Language will be printed for such as take Quantities for Foreign Parts.

Sold also retail at my House, near St. Sepulchre's Church, on Snow-Hill, London.

THOMAS GREENOUGH.

To prevent Mistakes observe the following Direction. — If you have any Disorder in the TEETH, GUMS, or BREATH, ask for the Tincture for preserving the Teeth; but if you are afflicted with a Pain in the TEETH only, then ask for the Tincture for curing the TOOTH-ACH.

A New Improvement in the Art of making the True Volatile Spirit of Sulphur. — This is so plain, short, easy, and cheap a Method, that any Person, tho' unacquainted with Chemistry, may now prepare this powerful and so much wanted Remedy, at Home, in a small Expence, for his own private Use.

Dedicated to Cromwell Mortimer, M.D. Secretary of the Royal Society, and Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians in London.

Printed for J. Robinson, at the Golden Lion, in Ludgate-street.

JOHN GARNER, At Mrs. Spencer's, the Old Par, in Trince-street, near Cavendish-square.

Administers infallible Remedies for the following Disorders, which have been experienced by him for upwards of Sixty Years, in Foreign Parts, viz. 1. Effectually to cure the most inveterate Cancer in the Mouth, after it hath been adjudged incurable. 2. Also to cure effectually the Scurvy in the Mouth. 3. To prevent the Teeth from rotting, and the Gums from wasting; and to make the latter grow, and the former white. 4. To consume Corns entirely without any Danger or Pain, so as never to grow again. 5. To raise the Nails which grow into the Flesh, and to cause them to grow as they should, without Cutting. 6. Pain. The Truth of the above is well known to several Persons of Distinction, and which he is ready to make appear to those who doubt.

Dr. ROBERT EATON'S BALSAMICK STYPTICK, Truly prepared and sold at the Doctor's late Dressing House, now Mrs. DUTTON's, in Salisbury Court, Fleet-street.

THIS Medicine restrains, in a most surprising Manner, all internal as well as external Hemorrhages, i. e. it infallibly and quickly stops all copious Bleedings at the Nose or Gums, spitting or vomiting Blood; also the immoderate Flux of the Hemorrhoids of Men and Women; bloody Urine or Stools, bleeding of large Wounds, &c. (if used according to the plain Directions given with it) will appear by the Certificates of several Eminent Physicians, and in the large Account of this Medicine, written by the Doctor himself, and dedicated to the College of Physicians a little before his Death.

It keeps good for many Years, at Sea or on Shore, in all Climates; therefore must be universally Useful.

The Doctor not only obtaining his Majesty's Letters Patent for the sole Vending of this most Excellent Medicine, but also a Clause in a late Act of Parliament, exempting the Medicine from the Inspection of the Censur of the College of Physicians, to which all other Medicines are liable.

N. B. The late Learned Dr. CHEYNE, in his Essay on the Body, &c. prefers EATON'S STYPTICK to all other Stypticks; and speaks of it as follows: — "Every one knows the agglutinating Quality of sweet Blood, and I apprehend it is to this, that EATON'S Styptick owes its mild, soothing Efficacy. — It is more mild, sedative, and soft, than the mildest Steel Preparations, and more fit to patch a Hole, or glew up a Rupture, or to give a Ballast to the aerid and inflam'd flowing Blood of the Pulse. In fact, he is confirmed in this by a Physician of great Worth and Candor, who has great Opportunities of dealing in such Cases, by his Practice in Midwifery. See p. 121."

The Royal BEAUTIFYING FLUID, SO exceedingly valued by Ladies of Quality and all who have used it, for its transcendent Excellency in Beautifying the Face, Neck, and Hands in its most exquisite Perfection possible, is to be had only at Mr. Radford's Toyshop at the Rose and Crown against St. Clement's Church-yard in the Strand.

It gives an inexpressible fine Air to the Features of the Face on the Spot, and a surprising Handsomeness to the Neck and Hands, which it immediately makes exceedingly smooth, fair, and delicately white.

Nothing in the World can sooner or more certainly take away all disagreeable Redness, Spots, Pimples, Heals, Roughness, Morpew, Worms in the Face, Marks of the Small Pox, Sun-burn, or any other Discolouring, nor remove all Wrinkles so perfectly; for it quickly makes the Skin become so incomparably fine, clear, plump, soft, and beautifully fair, as to cause Admiration in the Beholders.

It really gives a most engaging resplendent Brightness to the whole Countenance, and causes sparkling Life, Spirit, a juvenile Bloom to reign in every Feature, and yet is nothing but Paint, but far exceeds it, by its bringing the Skin, whether of the Face, Neck, or Hands, and tho' brown, red, or rough, to a natural, youthful Fairness, Smoothness, and most charming Delicacy, which Paint only faintly imitates; neither is this ROYAL BEAUTIFIER prepared from the least Particle of Mercury, or any Thing Metallic, but is perfectly harmless and may be given inwardly even to Children. It has also a pleasant Scent, will not soil the finest Lawn, and is very agreeable to use.

But these its admirable Properties, by which it really exceeds any Thing whatever for the like Purpose, have caused many to imitate it, under various other Names, because the Force of such Impositions, the true ROYAL BEAUTIFYING FLUID, that has given such universal Satisfaction to the Ladies of Distinction, being only to be had at Mr. Radford's Toyshop above-mentioned at 3s. 6d. a Bottle with Directions, and no where else in England.
